2018 Theme:

“One in the Spirit” – Psalm 133:1

To our Visitors:

We welcome you here this morning and hope that you will make plans to come back at your earliest convenience. Presently, our congregation has no minister, elders, or deacons. We are prayerfully working toward that goal. We do not go beyond the limitations and instructions set forth for the one and true Church.

If you have any questions as to our practice or beliefs, please do not hesitate to ask any of the men of the congregation. We will be happy to answer any and all questions you may have. We hope that your time with us will be pleasant and uplifting.

Agape Love (Part 1)

It is remarkable how we most often use the word “love” to describe an emotional feeling. When we use the expressions like “falling in love”, “falling out of love”, or “I don’t love him anymore”, we are limiting the meaning of love to the emotions which are stirred within us. The Greek language had many words to describe the many facets of love. Our failure to understand one of these words, the Greek word agape, keeps us from properly dealing with others and robs us of one of the great blessings of Christianity.

As a child, I always thought of love as an emotion, so when I read Jesus’ words about loving your enemies, I struggled to obey him. My emotional attitude toward my enemy was so far removed from any concept I had of love. (By the way, this struggle is also found in many marriages where a husband or wife is always mistreating their mate). What emotions does one have when people around him are mocking, verbally abusing, or insulting him? It is to emotionally respond with anger and the desire to respond in kind to what they are doing – to hurt them like they are hurting us. How can you “love” those who wrong you? Does God really expect me to “love” them?

The answer is found in realizing that when Jesus talked about love (agape), he was not talking about the emotional response we had toward them, but about how we treated them. Agape love has far more to do with how we treat others than how we emotionally respond to them.
